

Light for Sport and Games.

What do you expect from a good stadium? Not much in fact. You want to be able to get to the stadium easily. You want to have a good time at the stadium. And you want to get out of the stadium safely. For all this to come true for millions of fans, the entire stadium staff and of course the players, OSRAM and Siemens offer complete power supply systems, security systems, ticketing facilities and lighting all from a single source – everything in fact from the entrance gates to the stands, from the playing field to the exits. Let the games begin ...

A beautiful colossus

The Allianz Arena in Munich is one of the most famous stadiums in the world. But why? For one thing, it's home to Bayern Munich. But perhaps it has something more to do with the innovative and unique design of the illuminated outer membrane. State-of-the-art technology has turned a gigantic structure into an even greater work of art. What do you think?
